QUALITY AND ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

The Board of Directors of CAME CANCELLI AUTOMATICI S.p.A. holds quality, workplace and product safety, technological innovation, and environmental safeguarding to be fundamental values to support a competitive market while maintaining a leading position, both nationally and internationally, in the gate, door and other access automation industry.

It is thus committed to provide the means and human, technological, organisational and financial resources to ensure that its design, manufacturing, and sales activities are carried out according to the following cardinal points:

✓ Prevent rather than correct:

To avoid mistakes that will cause loss of market share, leave customers dissatisfied and cause environmental hazards, CAME carries out careful, detailed studies of its industrial processes and reviews them periodically. This enables the firm to plan its work to ensure that its products are always compliant to the specifications thus offsetting the risk of pollution and or depletion of natural resources and of other hazardous actions that could be hazardous to human health and the surrounding environment.

✓ Respect for quality and environmental standards:

CAME undertakes to obtain what is requested by the parties involved by working with suppliers, and complying with:

- product specifications as defined on the basis of client needs and expectations;
- product related regulations, in terms of both technical and legislative regulations;
- laws, regulations, applicable standards which concern the environmental issues associated to its activities, products and services – including any commitment undertaken with the local authorities and/or any third parties.

✓ Continual improvement:

- Increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the working processes across the board, whether it be in design and development, production, sales and after sales assistance. To do this through new technologies and materials for purposes of improving its products and services as a function of market requirements and other parties involved. The scope being to guarantee client satisfaction and pursue the target objective of continually improving performance in terms of the environment and pollution prevention.
- To offset any environmental impact that may result from our actions, products and services by adopting a proper management protocol, particularly by:
  - Improving management and optimising the use of energy resources;
  - Improving waste management, separating it and this optimising its collection;
  - Controlling the effect of the interaction of our processes, to minimise their impact on the surroundings.

✓ Communicate, consult, involve:

The Board of Directors, knowing that excellence in quality and environmental performance is obtained by empowering people at all levels, undertakes to:

- spread our policy to sensitise and involve all the people that work for CAME or on behalf of CAME as well as any other related parties;
- promote with the staff, suppliers, tertiary firms and service related parties, the awareness and importance of said environmental and quality issues, of the company's responsibilities in terms of the day-to-day working activities as concerns actual or potential environmental risk, by providing the proper training and sensitivity.

The respect of these cardinal points is guaranteed by continually maintaining and improving the Quality and Environmental system according to UNI EN ISO 9001:2000 and UNI EN ISO 14001:2004 standards.
